CURRENT

- 2021-2022 School Year Plan

What is in the draft guidance document? The RSSL plan is still in development, but the following are considered to be recommended. The majority of health and safety requirements have been moved to recommendations and local control has been established to determine which protocols we will implement in our district.

- All schools will be open for full-time, in-person instruction 5 days a week (school schedules have been developed and will be posted soon if not by the time of this meeting).
  - Additional resources will be provided for mental health support, school safety and prevention, and crisis services
  - Any remote instruction virtually must be delivered and by a licensed teacher, but we will not be required to have any virtual programming. Again, we plan to not provide CDL except for individual circumstances and special cases. If a family is still interested in pursuing virtual instruction, they might wish to consider planning for another option in the Fall.
  - Oregon will align to CDC guidance with some increase in local decision making in regard to health and safety requirements in the school.
  - Physical distancing of 3 feet will be recommended when possible but not required at all times.
  - Face coverings are recommended in schools due to the number of unvaccinated students and the fact that students 11 and under do not have a vaccination available to them. Vaccination percentages in the state, counties, or regions should play into some of these decisions.
  - Isolation & Quarantine plans will still be required to be in place when a case of COVID-19 is present in a building.
  - Transportation, Entry & Screening, Cleaning & Disinfecting, Cohorting, Visitors & Volunteers, etc. are to be determined by local decision making
- As always, this information is "as of today." Local control of the health and safety protocols was announced on Friday, June 25, 2021. This is good news for our district as we move forward with planning for the 2021-2022 school year. Our administrative team will meet in early August to develop health and safety protocols and we will present them to the school board at our regularly scheduled August meeting. A survey will be sent out to the community, parents, students and staff members to provide input for us to consider when developing our plans. You can get to the survey at this link...

I will host a public community Zoom meeting in the middle of August, date TBA, when we have the new protocols developed. Stay tuned for more information coming soon!
